

Donald Wehrung International Student Award 2020- 2021 NOMINATION • VANCOUVER & OKANAGAN CAMPUSES

DEADLINE TO SUBMIT NOMINATION PACKAGE: DECEMBER 1, 2019

Nominations will be accepted from secondary schools and recognized international development agencies and their affiliates, or registered local or international charitable and not-for-profit organizations. A school or organization may nominate one student for UBC’s Donald Wehrung International Student Award (DWISA) for undergraduate study at UBC’s Vancouver campus or Okanagan campus.

NOTE: If a school nominates one student for the Donald Wehrung International Student Award, a non-profit organization may NOT nominate another student from that same school for this award.

To be eligible for consideration for the Donald Wehrung International Student Award, the nominee must:

- be an international student, who is neither a Canadian citizen nor a permanent resident of Canada, and who will be studying in Canada on a Canadian Study Permit (visa);
- be from a war-torn or politically unstable region of the world, and/or from an economically disadvantaged region of the world, who has achieved academic excellence under difficult circumstances, and who has no financial means from family or other sources to pursue post-secondary education, either in their own country because it is unavailable or unattainable, or outside their country because it is beyond their means;
- be graduating or recently graduated from a recognized senior secondary school;
- be applying for their first undergraduate degree;
- be able to demonstrate superior academic achievement (achieve all ‘A’s or equivalent standard) and leadership potential.

Convention refugees and students intending to become landed immigrants to Canada are not eligible for the Donald Wehrung International Student Award. Nominees who have already entered or completed post-secondary schooling are also not eligible for consideration for this award.

Students who win a Donald Wehrung International Student Award will receive an award level commensurate with their financial need as determined by the costs of their UBC tuition and fees, as well as their living and other related costs.

The Award may be renewed for up to three additional years of undergraduate study, or to degree completion, whichever is less, provided the student meets UBC Senate requirements for awards renewal, continues to demonstrate financial need, and maintains their Canadian Study Permit (visa).

A student may be nominated for only one award, and will not be considered for the merit-based awards, the Outstanding International Student Award or International Major Entrance Scholarship. Results of the International Scholars competition will be made known by mid-April 2020. The decision of the International Scholars Selection Committee on all nominations is final.
